

The Skiff: It will change your perception of micro loudspeakers

“...I can't think of many speakers anywhere near its price or size that can rival (much less best) it in certain areas of reproduction. The upper midrange smoothness and coherence in particular is something to behold... it's surprisingly neutral and capable with a variety of music...”

(Marc Yun, Bound for Sound Issue #154)

The Skiff, like other Role Audio loudspeakers, is designed to deliver an astonishing level of performance in the smallest possible design. Measuring only 6 inches high by 4 inches wide by 5 inches deep, the Skiff will fill any small to medium sized room with accurate, full range, non-fatiguing music. Although the Skiff may be used as stand alone loudspeakers, the frequency response pattern of the Skiff integrates well with subwoofers and allows the Skiff to play in larger rooms.

It is small and beautiful enough to place almost anywhere. And it is fully magnetically shielded so it may be placed near to CRTs. You can play loudly or softly. Either way, it will outclass the competition.

The Skiff is available in beautiful satin black lacquer or birch all-wood cabinets, topped-off with Superior's best five-way binding posts.
